

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An automated quotation system is provided for generating firm binding price quotations for custom manufactured parts in either an online or offline context.

1. A method for generating a firm binding price quotation for a custom manufactured part, comprising: receiving a request for a price quotation for a custom manufactured part; determining a firm binding price quotation for the custom manufactured part; and providing the firm binding price quotation to a user.